

Functions of Behavior

Attention

Attention behavior often results in immediate feedback or response from another person- can be negative or positive.

Escape

Escape behaviors typically occur when a learner wants to avoid or "escape" doing something.

Tangible

Tangible behavior occurs when children engage because they are looking to gain access to something.

Sensory

Sensory stimulation occurs when children want to experience a pleasant sensation or replace discomfort.